Peace Observatory DMZ

The closest you can get to the North Korea. Entry to this area was strictly prohibited to the public till 2008. There is video room that showcases a comparison of the North and South army, as well as the background of the war. On the third floor, visitors can enjoy stunning views of North Korean mountains and housings and learn about North Korea.

U-do (Cow Island)

Udo is the largest of the islands included in Jeju Province. Also known as "Cow Island" because of its resemblance of a cow lying down. The whole of Udo is a lava plateau and a fertile flatland where major agricultural products such as sweet potatoes, garlic, and peanuts are produced. Don't miss to try out Udo peanut ice cream.

Manor Blanc flower garden

An analog cafe with a beautiful garden decorated with European hydrangeas, roses, and camellias in a 7,000-sqm-garden with a view of the sea in the background of Sanbangsan Mountain. A garden cafe devoted to flowers by the flower-mad owner. Also, IG hotspot in spring for the beautiful flowers and Autumn Pink Mudly grass

Hwansang Forest Gotjawal Park (Forest Bath & Herbal Foot Spa)

Take a healing trip in nature!. A forest friend will guide you through the trip by sharing stories of the residents of Jeju Island and providing information on the various plants of Gotjawal. The Gotjawal is a highly valuable area where a variety of plants and animals cohabit on an unusual geography left behind by volcano lava.

Tour of Blue House

The new Korean president no longer lives there, so Cheongwadae is open to public for the first time in 74 years. A Visit to the Blue House to learn more of Korea's extensive political and cultural past, and how it has shaped the country into what it is today. Enjoy the walk around Cheong Wa Dae and get an up close view of the beautiful buildings and gardens.
